ITEM 6

ANTHONIJ RUPERT MERLOT 2016 MAGNUM IN A WOODEN BOX

WINEMAKING: Grapes are picked by hand, placed into small lug boxes and transported to the cellar in a refrigerated truck. The whole berries are manually double sorted in the cellar and then gravity fed into fermenters. Each batch is cold soaked for a few days and then slowly brought up in temperature, with fermentation occurring naturally. The wines were aged 18 to 24 months in 80% new French oak, bottled unfiltered and bottle aged for 2 years.

TASTING NOTE: Tempting herb notes overlay riper plum and berry fruit aromas. In the mouth, hedgerow fruit or berries and plum flavours are joined by deeper, darker inky nuances of cocoa and cedar. A deceptively soft textured palate also shows intensity with spice and earthiness and some powerful muscularity from time in oak. The tannins are integrated and add structure, grip, and a dry, oak element to the long fruited tail. Complex and delightful, it will benefit from further ageing.

Tereo Community School is a faith-based, non-profit organization, established in 1999 as a school for street children and children at risk in the Helderberg Basin, who for some social/traumatic event or circumstances, fell out of the formal education system or have never been part of it, therefore providing an opportunity to learn in a place of safety.
